It always seems to be difficult for most of us to remember just what dog won and when so here is a listing which will be news for some and a refresher course for others courtesy of Bill Thompson's field trial compilation.

This is actually a page from his new "Irish Setter Word and Picture" which it has been suggested we publish as a service and income producer. Mr. Thompson wants nothing from the project and will furnish one typed copy. Ed Schnettler is to furnish us with the details may be able to bring copy to Kansas City. This would help our program most feel and also be a continual source of income. A note from Whip readers showing their willingness to buy advance subscriptions in order to defray cost would be appreciated.

Knowing that their many friends would wish to participate in this honor it was decided to request $1 donations towards its purchase. From the Mail:

John Norton of Little Hocking, Ohio wrote of his disappointment in the spring trial write-up with no details of running and he had been unable to stay for more than 3 stakes on Sat. We think he and others will be pleased with Mr. Hutto's reporting. He is experienced and it is a difficult job that no one seems to want and as always the same few are pressed into too many chores.

News of just what Irish could be expected to attend was requested by Ray Heady, Sports Editor of the Kansas City Star. He is a big booster of our breed and will give continued excellent coverage for us but little information in this regard has come to me other than the usual good turn out for the Minnesota crowd.

Ed Schnettler writes that Double Jet, Autumn Hills Penny, Autumn Hills Jack, Peet's Rusty Maverick, Peet's Contention, Little Red and the famed Sat. Night Jim should be on hand. Autumn Hills Jack has been with Roy Jine and is felt may be an even greater dog than Duke. Schnet's Darky may make the team in spite of being with pups (Please Ed, can't we females ever get a rest?) Ed Johnson's Sam may be threatening too since he's been up in the Canadian fields working a few sharptails. Doc Bloom's Penny also plans on the trip so this pack team really has been working along. Clayton Enebo's Red also is to be there to show the K. C. folks what we are breeding so it should be a good week end.

Been getting the silent treatment from Athens so don't know just what the Bean camper outfit plans on bringing. It's a cinch he won't give up the pleasure of running Mr. O'Leary again. Tammy undoubtedly may have to get off the bed and we're all anxious to watch Dr. Miller's Lad have a go at it again. Cliff feels he really has "it" and all those who watched him in the spring agreed!

The Minn. ISC trial drew an entry of 52 under the fine work of Dave Peet. Don Wilson did his usual more than his share I gather and Hazel Wilson, Audrey Chantry, Leeann Peet, Ruth Kremer and Claudeen Enebo it is reported finally stayed out of tent long enough so some could fix lunch. It is said that they even spilled beans and blamed it on the wind. Little Red (Schnettler) was 1st in Open Shooting Dog; Ed Johnson's Sam, 3rd and Sat. Night Jim (Schnettler) was 3rd in puppy despite running on Sunday morning. Not bad against those nasty pointers! Dave Peet's Rusty looked good but had trouble with wet birds. Weather (old news for here) was bad. So Ed is the proud possessor of the rotating trophy named the Autumn Hills Rotating trophy.

Hear that Jim Barnes, Whiting Kansas is really a pro interested in getting an Irish that can compete with the all breed at the big ones. Jim now has Dr. Van Wye's "Vanita's Gael fully broke at not quite 1½ years without taking anything out of her. So another to watch!

Another new member to welcome into our club is J. A. Durrent owner of the Hunting Irish Kennel in Quincy, Washington and a good friend of member Lucy Jan Myers of Duluth. Welcome!

Relatively new members Dwight and Margaret Haddock were kind enough to write of their pleasure of meeting many members at the Minn. trial and that they were impressed with the Irish they saw there. Their D Mar's Dixie is the current holder of the title of Nebraska State Shooting Dog! They have had quite a time however nursing a broken knee joint back & have made many vet and K-State Vet. school trips this summer. Pups are to be available the middle of this month which will be FDSB and AKC eligible. 3 males and females are not yet spoken for and for pedigree copies and information (they have Ike Jack and Lady, Tyronne Farm and Kinvarra stock behind them) write Dwight Haddock, 1110 Taylor, Norfolk, Nebraska.

A request for trial stock Irish is made by Mrs. Bruce Smith of Ashland, Wisconsin. Mrs. Smith is interested in purchasing an Irish Setter of good quality and proven hunting ability. She has no interest in more show stock of which she plans to reduce in her own kennel. Can u help?

Mrs. Frances Warren, 3536 Timberview rd., Dallas, Texas wants help in getting information of our Red ones. She now has two. One from Dale Bruns and one from H. L. Hinds though she finds little company for them in this section. We hope our club can help you change the minds of those there who have been telling you only that they were stubborn and hard to train!

###

From Clio, Alabama, Joe Dean writes that the Irish Setter seems extinct so far as hunting is concerned there (seems we have a lot of covering to do). Mr. Dean is a trainer and is interested in someone letting him have some good running dogs to develop and train for trials. He believes this would be profitable in the way of stud service, sale of good brood bitches and sale of puppies but would promot breed as a hunter in this section.

###

Bill Shea, owner of Sheabel Boarding Kennel in Lexington, Ky., through Pat Cooper felt he was lucky in getting a good young prospect from Ned LeGrande but now finds it will be impossible to campaign her. Thinking that this breeding should stay within the Red Setter club he is offering her to anyone in club first. When he found he would be unable to run her he bred her to Mrs. Cooper's The Dude and she is due to whelp Oct. 30 or Nov. 1st. Contact him if you can take advantage of this offer.
